COUNTRY MOURNS DEATH OF DEPEW

74 Rebels Slain By Mexican Troops In Fierce Battle

REPORTS OF FIGHTS REACH CAPITAL CITY

10 Agrarians, Four Federal Soldiers Lose Lives In Struggles in Interior

Farmers Put Up Stubborn Resistance in Terrific Encounter in Michoacan

(By United Press)
MEXICO CITY, April 5.—Seventy-four rebels, 10 Agrarians and four federal troops have been killed in battles in the interior, advices reaching the capital today said.

Fifty Mexican rebels were killed in a fierce battle near Patzcuaro, in the state of Michoacan, the newspaper Excelsior was informed. The Agrarians, putting up strong resistance, lost 10 men. The rebels were driven off after a hand to hand encounter.

Rebels who attacked the town of Tequila, state of Jalisco—the rebel center—were decisively defeated by a column of federal troops.

There was a four-hour battle, in which five members of the local force were killed. Rebel casualties could not be ascertained.

Federal troops, summoned to the assistance of the Tequila garrison, came too late for the battle, but they pursued the rebels.

Guadalajara dispatches said the federalists succeeded in catching up with them. In a short encounter, 20 rebels and four federalists were killed.

OPINIONS DIFFER ON RUBBER SITUATION

LONDON, April 5.—Differing comment today greeted the action of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in announcing the Stevenson rubber restriction—imposed six years ago—would be abandoned as from November 1.

Spot rubber opened today at 9 1/4 pence (18 1/2 cents) a pound, the lowest price since 1922.

The Stevenson restriction limited exportation of rubber from British growing countries, so that when prices declined the output also declined. American interests fought this so-called British monopoly. Then the government investigated, with the Baldwin announcement the result.

Sir Robert Hutchinson, chief Liberal whip and an opponent of the Baldwin government, said the announcement of the prime minister means disaster to the rubber industry.

BROKER LOANS AT NEW RECORD HIGH

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Loans on stocks and bonds to brokers and dealers by reporting federal reserve member banks in New York City April 4 increased $153,929,000 during the week to a new record high of $3,979,308,000, compared with $3,825,379,000 on March 28 and $2,840,238,000 on April 6, 1927.

ANNEXATION VOTED DOWN BY NEWPORT HEIGHTS RESIDENTS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Residents of a small triangular section of land in Newport Heights yesterday defeated a measure to annex the district to the city of Newport Beach by a vote of 27 to 18. The special annexation election held in the district yesterday was called by the Newport Beach city council some time ago, after a petition, asking that an election be called, had been presented to that body.

The movement to annex the territory to Newport Beach was started after a campaign to annex the Costa Mesa territory to Santa Ana had been launched. Petitions asking the annexation of Costa Mesa to Santa Ana now are before the Santa Ana city council. If the proposition to annex Costa Mesa to Santa Ana should carry the triangle strip will be the only unincorporated territory between Santa Ana and Newport Beach, as the district is not included in the area asking annexation to Santa Ana.

Less than 100 persons reside in the district which voted on annexation to Newport Beach yesterday. The petition asking that the election be called was reported to have been signed by approximately 30 voters, but only 18 votes were cast in favor of the proposition.

Although the number of votes and the territory are small, the result of the election has an important bearing on the proposed annexation of Costa Mesa to Santa Ana, it is reported by political leaders of the district.

The Santa Ana city council is expected to take action on the petition asking annexation of Costa Mesa to Santa Ana on April 18.

Boyd, appointed assistant jailer soon after the grand jury's investigation here several months ago, which relieved the jail of several of its employees, was next in line for the position, according to Jernigan.

Boyd is one of the few employees of the sheriff's office who is from the north end of the county, having come from Anaheim.

Bray has accepted a position as special agent for a life insurance company of Los Angeles and expects to receive a position in the advertising department of the company in a short time, he said.

Bray was appointed to the jail position after the grand jury housecleaning. He was the only turnkey left in the jail and stepped overnight to the jailer's position.

The position vacated by Boyd will be filled by George Hubbard, Sheriff Jernigan announced. This appointment was decided on several days ago, but was not announced until today. Hubbard is well known in Santa Ana. He formerly was manager of the Otis building here and has been instrumental in American Legion affairs during the last two years. He directed most of the drill work for the drum corps of the Santa Ana post.

Jernigan Announces Office Change; George Hubbard to Fill Gap

Sheriff Sam Jernigan today announced the appointment of George Boyd as head jailer of the Orange county jail to succeed Faber Bray, who has resigned and who will take a position with an insurance company on May 1.

Senator Walsh To Defense Of Gov. Al Smith

Robinson Insinuations Are 'Mere Piffle,' Asserts Montana Solon

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—No one has ever dared assert Gov. Al Smith, of New York, is not an honest man and the insinuations made against him by Senator Robinson, of Indiana, are "mere piffle," Senator Walsh, of Montana, told the senate today.

Walsh, who, like Smith, is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, offered rebuttal of Robinson's recent accusations against prominent Democrats.

Walsh said the "heinous crime" which Robinson charged against Smith was that he appointed Harry Sinclair, oil magnate now under indictment, as New York racing commissioner in 1922. Walsh added that Robinson was the sole authority for another charge, that Smith received a campaign contribution from Sinclair in 1920.

"I presume no one could find any particular culpability if the campaign managers of Gov. Smith did take a contribution from Sinclair," Walsh said. "The whole thing seems to me to be what might be termed in street language 'mere piffle'."

Progressive Control In Wisconsin Weakened
MADISON, Wis., April 5.—Progressive Republican control of Wisconsin has been weakened definitely, tabulation of Tuesday's primary election showed today.

Progressives seemed assured of two out of four delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention, but the selection of a progressive third delegate seemed doubtful.

Tubulations today in the Republican preferential vote gave Senator George W. Norris, the only

SHIP AGROUND ON MITCHELL ISLAND

TUTULIA, SAMOA, April 5.—Officers and crew of the freighter Steelmaker, which is aground on Mitchell Island, of the Ellice group, remained aboard the vessel today, although equally weather prevailed.

The Steelmaker, which is held fast by a coral reef, is on the lee side of Mitchell Island, affording it considerable protection from storms.

Food supply of the vessel rapidly was diminishing and the U. S. S. Tanager, which was standing by, was asked for spare supplies.

The rescue tug Peacock sailed from Los Angeles harbor Wednesday and will reach here April 18, one of the longest salvage voyages in marine history.

U.S. ATTORNEYS QUIET ON HAYS TEAPOT ANGLE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Government prosecutors in the Sinclair Teapot Dome case refused today to comment on suggestions that subpoena of Will H. Hays as a witness in the Sinclair trial, starting next Monday, might be necessary if published reports of his activities in the 1923 Teapot investigation were true.

Hays is in France and the senate Teapot committee may call him before it, but it is unlikely he could return in time to testify at the trial. So far as can be learned, no steps have been taken by the government to obtain his testimony.

Former Senator Atlee Pomerene, of the government prosecution, said he knew nothing of the incident reported, in which Hays was credited with having coerced former Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall into writing his 1923 letter, naming E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, as the source of Fall's previously unexplained affluence.

Pomerene, who was present in El Paso recently at the taking of Fall's deposition, for use in Harry F. Sinclair's defense in the trial starting Monday, said he could not disclose any of the contents of the testimony.

The testimony is being transcribed in El Paso and probably will not be available for the court for eight or 10 days, he said.

LA GUARDIA LOSES RUBBER BILL FIGHT

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, created a mild sensation in the house today when he demanded that members who might be interested in rubber companies be disqualified from voting on the Newton bill, permitting buying pools by rubber and other importers in this country.

Speaker Longworth, however, overruled La Guardia's point of order against such members.

DURHAM, N. C., April 5.—Murders appalling in their atrocity were charged today against a saw-mill employee, whose shattered brain caused county authorities to put him in a padded jail cell.

The man, Ray Robertson, 40, Tuesday night killed with an ax his three young children, Cecil, 12; Louisville, 9, and Joseph, 4. His wife escaped by fleeing into woodlands adjoining their home.

The demented man cut the feet and hands off his victims and threw them from a barn loft to the ground. Then he slaughtered chickens, cut a gash in his horse and hacked his automobile into twisted fenders and body. The tires were cut to shreds.

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO FAMOUS WIT

Noted Humorist, Chairman Of Board of New York Central, Ill Short Time
LONG POLITICAL LIFE

Was Looking Forward to Annual Interview With News Men, on April 23

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, April 5.—Chauncey Depew, 93 years old and chairman of the board of the New York Central railroad, died early today of pneumonia. He had been ill only a few weeks.

Recently he was in Florida and contracted bronchial trouble. He was brought back to New York and en route home suffered a severe chill.

Last night doctors said he had developed bronchial pneumonia, but added they did not believe his condition was alarming.

Diess at 4 A. M.
Doctors watched over the veteran railroad executive throughout the night. His condition gradually became weaker and at 4 a. m. members of the family were called to the bedside.

Within an hour Depew was dead. Mrs. Depew, a son, Chauncey M. Depew Jr., and a niece, Miss Ann Paulding, were at the bedside when Depew died.

He had been semi-conscious throughout the night, after suffering the sudden relapse late Wednesday.

Depew's funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m., Saturday, at St. Thomas church, in Fifth avenue. The officiating clergymen and pallbearers have not been selected. He will be buried at Peekskill, N. Y., his birthplace.

Chauncey Depew and his optimism toward life had become one of the nation's institutions. He would have been 94 years old on April 24 and before he left Florida was looking forward eagerly to April 23, when he again would meet newspapermen—an annual occasion—and give his now famous version on how to attain longevity of life.

Met News Men Annually
"Do everything and anything you want, but do it in moderation. In this way you ease yourself mentally and do not hurt yourself physically," was his creed. Every year he told newspapermen this, exchanged jokes with them and seemed to enjoy hugely his good health. He looked forward to attaining an age of 100.

Depew was born in Peekskill, N. Y., in 1834, on a homestead that had been in possession of the family.

U.S. Seeks Aid Of Other Nations To Break Drug Rings

(By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Arrangements with other countries to aid in breaking up the international narcotic smuggling rings are being sought by the state department, correspondence between Secretary Kellogg and Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, disclosed today.

Thus far agreements for the direct exchange of information concerning the activities of narcotic rings have been concluded with Great Britain, Germany and France, Kellogg wrote.

Similar agreements are being sought with Switzerland, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Denmark, the free city of Danzig, Poland, Spain, Turkey, Greece and Japan, he said.

SECRECY VEILS GOVERNMENT'S CHICAGO PROBE

BY C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, April 5.—Chicago

speculated today upon the outcome of the federal government's investigation into the bombings, assassinations and shootings which have marked the pre-primary campaign in this city and county.

The government's investigation was being made through the federal grand jury and a detail of special intelligence agents.

Utmost secrecy veiled every move of the government authorities. It was known that Assistant U. S. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson appeared before the grand jury and that George Golding, leader of the special squad of prohibition agents, detailed here, from Washington, will testify.

Golding's squad raided a saloon last week end, during the raid, William Beatty, municipal court bailiff and Republican ward leader, was wounded. Myron Caffey, dry agent, who shot Beatty, was named in a warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder and the subsequent dispute between city and federal authorities for the right to try Caffey has continued for several days.

Government attorneys obtained a writ of habeas corpus cum causa before service of the warrant was made. Judge James Wilkerson indicated he would announce decision today on the motion of state and city attorneys to set aside the writ.

There was hope of solution of the bombings of the homes of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen and Judge John A. Swanson, in the government's questioning of Lorenzo Juliano, well known gangster and alcohol runner.

Juliano was arrested three days ago by Agent Patrick Roche, who announced the arrest would lead to solution of the bombings.

M'CARTHY SAYS CUBS SET FOR WINNING RACE

KANSAS CITY, April 5.—"The club that beats us will win the National league pennant," Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, told the United Press here today.

"We've strengthened our club considerably and when we get on top this time we'll stay there," he continued.

It will be remembered that the Cubs led the National league race all during August last year only to collapse and fall away to fourth place.

McCarthy believes his club has the power for a sustained drive this season and will not crack as it did in 1927.

"Pittsburgh, New York and Brooklyn look strong to me," McCarthy said, "and the Boston Braves will be considerably better. In the American league the Yanks will finish on top or close to it."

Asked if he thought the trade which sent "Sparky" Adams to the Pirates in exchange for Cuyler had weakened the Cubs' infield, McCarthy said:

"I wouldn't have made any such trade if I thought it would hurt our club. Our infield suits me fine."

fly for 200 years. On his father's side he was of Huguenot stock. His mother was a descendant of Roger Sherman, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

He received his early education in the Peeskill schools and entered Yale when he was 18 years old. He graduated with the class of 1856 and immediately entered politics.

Admitted To Bar In 1858

It was the first year that the newly formed Republican party had entered a candidate for the presidency and Depew entered with a zest into political life. In the meantime he studied law in a private law office in Peeskill and in 1858 was admitted to the bar. His first political speeches were made in behalf of the candidacy of Abraham Lincoln, in 1860. It was during a series of speeches for Lincoln that Depew's ability as a humorist—an ability that kept aglow up to a few days before his death—first became noticed.

He was elected to the New York state assembly in 1862 and in 1863 was elected secretary of state of New York.

In 1872, he backed Horace Greeley, who was running as a candidate for lieutenant governor of New York. Greeley was defeated.

In 1889, the state assembly elected Depew a senator for six years and did the same again in 1904.

Depew, in the meantime, had started rising in the New York Central railroad. In 1882 he was elected second vice president. In 1892 he assumed the presidency and served until 1898, when he became chairman of the board.

Withdrew from Harrison

Probably the highest point in Depew's political life came in 1888, when Depew was a contender for the Republican presidential nomination. He finally withdrew to support Harrison.

Even outlasting Depew's political and business successes, however, was his success in phrasing his beliefs on life—beliefs he annually gave up to the public on April 23.

He would discuss anything. Of modifying the prohibition law he once said:

"It doesn't interest me. I don't drink myself—any more. I had to give up champagne because it disagreed with me. I love champagne, too. I think that the prohibition law goes a little too far."

When he was about to celebrate his 92nd birthday, he said:

"I think my age is due to the fact that I have been on good terms with humankind. I have made strenuous effort to be calm, to be tranquil. I have cultivated people all my life because I liked them."

Thought Marriage Wonderful

Marriage to Chauncey Depew was something wonderful. He had been married since 1871.

"Many young people regard marriage as a joke; they enter upon it without understandings and adjustments that must be made. Gentlemen, go back to the simple life of a country village of 91 years ago. I left such a village when I was 30 years old. There had not been a divorce in this village of 2500 persons in years and years. I think that if a divorce had been obtained the principals would have been boycotted. For all this talk of divorce there has been a tremendous increase in the happiness of home life," he once said.

He was an ardent believer in his country and in the business life of the United States. Some of his beliefs on business and the United States included:

Beliefs On Business

"Our national wealth is greater than that of all Europe and is owned in a greater or lesser degree by an overwhelming percentage of our population.

AWAIT WORD FROM CAPTAIN WILKINS

SEWARD, Alaska, April 5.—Operators of the army radio station were standing continuous watch today for signals from Capt. George Wilkins, at Point Barrow.

Nothing has been heard from the famous Arctic explorer since Tuesday night, when he messaged that he was waiting on favorable weather to start his flight across the north pole to Spitzbergen.

It was presumed that Wilkins had dismantled his radio station and was reinstalling it in his plane.

In that case, he probably will not be heard from again until his plane actually is in the air, when the generator for the radio set will be wind driven.

Gillette will make his western headquarters here. His son will take immediate possession of the residence.

Grid Star's Car, Present Of Wife, Held By Sheriff

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—The luxurious automobile given "Tricky Dick" Hyland as a wedding present by his wife of a few days, Adela Roberts St. Johns, was held by the sheriff here today for a collated debt of the former Stanford grid star.

The Pacific Nash Motors of San Francisco charges Hyland owes $846.48 on a car purchased from them while he was in college and demolished before payments were completed. Hyland's wedding present will be released on payment of $1000 bond.

candidate entered on one ballot, an over-increasing lead over Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, Frank O. Lowden and Charles G. Dawes. The Nebraska senator maintained a nine to one majority.

Reed Gains Steadily

In the Democratic preferential vote, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, gained steadily over Gov. Al Smith and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, whose names had been written in.

In the contest for delegates-at-large, Senators Robert M. La Follette and John B. Blaine, Progressives, were leading by margins which assured their election.

Two regular Republican candidates held slight leads over the third ranking Progressive candidate.

The La Follette-Blaine faction, pledged to Senator Norris, gained 13 out of the 22 district delegates, a majority far less than that of four years ago, when regular Republicans elected only one of the 26 delegates to the national convention.

Although the Democratic preferential vote gave Senator Reed a large majority, the one-sided victory of the Democratic slate of delegates pledged to Governor Smith assured the latter of the state's 26 votes at the national convention.

Californians Act To Swing Other States To Hoover

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—With the choice of California Republicans unanimously for Herbert Hoover as the next presidential candidate, enthusiastic party leaders today were ready to accept responsibility if Hoover fails to be the next White House occupant.

Prominent Republicans were considering means for influencing the support of other states to insure Hoover's candidacy.

The responsibility which state Republicans feel was expressed by former Governor Stephens, of California, in a speech to some 600 members of his party who gathered here yesterday to honor the 29 candidates for delegates to the Republican national convention.

Called Great Opportunity

"Never before has California had such an opportunity," Stephens said. "It will be our fault in a large way if Herbert Hoover is not the next occupant of the White House."

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles, candidate for the California delegation, urged a tremendous pro-Hoover vote in the California primary, which he said would have a moral effect on the vote in other states.

John L. McNab, San Francisco, described Hoover in an address as "a man most of us are disposed to regard primarily as a great administrator and a powerful executive trained in world affairs, but a shy and retiring gentleman who loves his fellow-man, but does not crave the applause of the multitude."

big undertakings the country over. It was brought out that the east bay municipal utilities district of Oakland, Calif., had employed both Mulholland and the late General W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, as consulting engineers.

Mulholland on Stand

After Del Valle retired, Mulholland took the stand at his own request to "explain" some of Del Valle's statements.

He revealed that he held frequent consultations with nationally known engineers and informed the jury that Arthur P. Davis, engineer of the Oakland project, was on the city's payroll as a consultant until recently. When asked if he had consulted engineers or geologists outside of his own staff on the St. Francis dam, Mulholland replied that he had not.

A move to write into the record testimony and evidence indicating that the St. Francis dam break might have been caused by dynamiters was made by the water department.

Engineer Summoned

The department summoned Frank Reiber, consulting engineer of San Francisco, who was retained as an explosives expert by the water and power commission. Reiber, it was understood, expected to testify that the east side of the dam fell first and its failure was caused by some outside force which might have been dynamite.

dollars. The flood followed a cloudburst last night, when a total of 6.81 inches of rain fell.

With dawn today Shawnee anxiously checked its flood damage and searched the debris for bodies of missing residents.

More than 1000 persons were made homeless by the storm. About 200 houses were destroyed or damaged by the wall of water.

All relief agencies in the district were called upon to assist in rehabilitation work at Shawnee. Business men in the city met in conference this afternoon as rescue workers continued their search to find shelter for the 200 families left homeless.

Appeal to the National Red Cross for aid was made.

Operating under the name of the Bolton-Milnes company, Henry L. Bolton and Vera Milnes have opened a store at 214 West Fifth street for the distribution of products of the Zol Products company. Zol is a water soluble sulphur compound which makes it possible for an individual to take a purifying and healthful sulphur bath at home by adding it to an ordinary bath of hot water.

Communion services, in honor of the anniversary of the first communion, will be held at the First Methodist church here tonight at 7 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor. Tomorrow afternoon from noon until 3 p. m., a meditation service will be held at the church. This service will be for persons who can come and stay a short time only and who will be expected to leave when they have so to do, it was explained.

COUNTY HEALTH HEAD APPLAUDS CLEANUP DRIVE

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, commended the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in fostering the cleanup and paint-up spirit in Santa Ana today when he declared that cleanliness is one of the foundation stones upon which is built the structure of health.

"Though dirt does not necessarily mean disease, the two often are found together, and in banishing one, we can get rid of the other," Dr. Sutherland said. "Hence the health department is vitally interested in clean-up week."

The county official offered to the citizens of Santa Ana a few suggestions in carrying out the drive. "Keep your back yards free of weeds, cans and rubbish. All of these, if put in boxes or similar containers and set in an accessible place, will be collected regularly by the city. Cans should be rinsed thoroughly and holes punched in the bottoms to prevent collection of water and fluids, which might breed mosquitoes and similar insect nuisances. "Keep your garbage cans clean and in good condition, with tight fitting lids. Avoid rust and subsequent leaking by not having the cans standing directly on the ground. A bad garbage can disseminates odors and draws the disease spreading fly.

"Keep chicken pens clean and at least 25 feet from any residence, your own included. The same applies to rabbit hutches, which are especially apt to become nuisances. The ground under the hutches must be clean also to prevent odors and flies. "Keep your premises clean and they will not attract the disease spreading fly, but if he does come, swat him."

100 BOYS TAKE SWIM LESSONS THIS VACATION

Nearly 100 boys are passing their vacation profitably by learning to swim at the Y. M. C. A. pool under the instruction of R. R. Russick, physical director. This week is the annual "learn to swim" campaign by the organization, and the interest and enthusiasm of the boys taking the course indicates very clearly that the Y. M. C. A. is performing a service the boys highly appreciate, in the opinion of Ralph Smedley, executive secretary.

"Most of the boys have shown genuine progress, and a majority of them will be able to propel themselves across the pool by the end of the course," Russick said today.

Russick has not announced his plans for special swimming classes for the summer, but it is probable he will provide some opportunities for beginners to receive instruction.

Following is a list of boys who are taking the Easter vacation course:

Police News

Charged with overtime parking, R. H. Belton and Mrs. R. McCauley, Santa Ana, each were fined $2 in police court yesterday.

John F. Stanfield, 25, shipping clerk of 415 West Poplar street, Compton, entered the county jail last night to serve a five day jail sentence imposed for speeding. He was sentenced in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

Antonio Zamora, 25, Logan street resident, was arrested last night by Officer Fink and is being held in the county jail for Corona officers. Zamora is said to be wanted in Corona for failure to pay a fine in justice court there.

Police are today investigating a report that several windows at the Artesia school, Artesia street, were shot out yesterday afternoon by boys. A small bore rifle was used, it was reported.

PLACENTIA HONORS SCHOOL TRUSTEES

PLACENTIA, April 5.—Winthrop Brown and J. A. Prizer were given a suitable reception at the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce held here yesterday. These two men were the winners in the hotly contested high school trustee election and both ran on a platform of efficiency of administration of the Fullerton union high school, against the bond issue to establish junior high schools throughout the district and for a northern Orange county junior college on a campus of its own.

Responses were made to the introductions, the program ending with a song by the members present entitled, "We Hope They Live to Be a Hundred," led by Secretary Tom Pickering. President A. S. Bradford presided, with John C. Tuffee as master of ceremonies. H. H. Hale, newly elected president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, also was recognized by the group.

MEXICAN FACING ASSAULT CHARGE

A charge of assault with intent to commit murder will be made against a man named Jesus Heredia, 25, tomorrow, when he will be haled into Superior court here, Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett announced today.

Heredia has admitted slaying Jesus Mora, 40, across the stomach March 21, when the latter refused to take a drink with him. Mora has been in the county hospital since the occurrence and is reported to be improving. Both were employees of the Holly Sugar company at Huntington Beach.

Heredia was arrested by Sheriff's Officers Steward and Petty following the cutting scrape. According to their report, he went to Mora's home in a drunken condition at noon March 21 where the latter refused to imbibe his booze, and ordered him from the house.

He is said to have returned an hour later, when the argument broke out again and Heredia attacked his acquaintance with a butcher knife. According to officers, Mora retaliated by beating Heredia over the head with a stick. His face bore evidence of having been beaten when he was arrested, they said.

LEGIONNAIRES WILL MEET THIS EVENING

Santa Ana members of the American Legion are to be guests of the American Legion auxiliary unit at a potluck supper, to be served at the Legion home on Birch street tonight at 6:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Mrs. Grover Fultz, president.

Some 100 members of the Santa Ana post are expected to attend the meeting.

As their share of work for the Boy Scout Jamboree scheduled to be held on April 27, the local auxiliary will serve a dinner in the dining room in the fairgrounds to which the public is invited, it was announced. The proceeds of the dinner will go to the Boy Scout movement.

NEW COMMANDER NAMED BY POST

ANAHEIM, April 5.—J. Fred Sidebottom was elevated from the post of first vice commander of the Anaheim post of the American Legion to that of commander to succeed Glen Merrill, resigned, at the regular meeting held in Legion hall.

Merrill recently resigned as commander due to his entrance into local politics as a candidate for the office of city treasurer in the forthcoming election.

Rudolph Boyesen was, at this time, advanced from the post of second vice commander to that of first vice commander and Kenneth Peck was named second vice commander.

COUNTY PEACE OFFICERS HEAR TALK ON DOPE

Experiences in the battle he has been waging for the past 12 years against the narcotic peddler and addict were told last night to 150 members of the Orange County Peace Officers' Association, and their wives and friends by Captain G. M. Littlejohn, head of the narcotic detail of the Los Angeles police department.

Littlejohn brought to Santa Ana various "samples" of dope he had captured and passed it around among the officers so they could see what it looked like and so they could recognize it while in their line of work.

Declaring that fully 75 percent of the crimes committed in this country today were committed by users of narcotics and that fully 90 percent of all dope addicts were criminals, Littlejohn stressed the necessity for more work against the peddler.

He and his men have arrested more than 2500 addicts and peddlers during the past year, in Los Angeles, he declared, while more than 300 had been sent to San Quentin penitentiary during the past three years as the result of his efforts, he said. Those who were given terms in the penitentiary were sellers of narcotics.

Captain Littlejohn explained to officers how a peddler could be trapped, telling a number of his own experiences. He described mannerisms and telltale characteristics of the dope fiend that would help officers in their work.

"The reason that most all dope users are criminals is because after they become users, it takes about $10 worth of drugs a day to satisfy their craving, and as their minds and physical beings are weakened by the use of it, they are unable to earn that much. They have to have it, so they start their life of crime," he said.

In demonstrating the way the various drugs are used, Captain Littlejohn explained to officers that there are dope users here as well as everywhere else and that there was plenty of work to do in Orange county. "We have several dope users from Santa Ana come to Los Angeles to get their drugs, don't forget that," he said.

Captain Littlejohn showed "sam-

427 ARRESTED IN SANTA ANA DURING MARCH

Traffic arrests during the month of March in Santa Ana more than doubled the number of arrests in February, but arrests for other violations, including misdemeanors, and arrests by motorcycle officers, was far under the February totals, according to the monthly report just completed by Frank Lutz, desk sergeant.

During March there were 355 persons arrested for traffic violations, which included parking overtime and other minor offenses. In February there were only 157 such arrests.

Motorcycle officers arrested only 34 persons during March as compared with 100 in February. Of these, 21 were arrested for speeding and 10 for failure to comply with the boulevard stop laws. In February, 42 persons were arrested for not observing boulevard stops and 24 were arrested for speeding, the report shows.

A grand total of 427 persons were arrested in March, as compared with 288 in February.

During March there were 11 persons arrested for being drunk as compared with only seven in February, while the total arrests for misdemeanors in March was 33 as compared with 28 for February.

Twenty automobiles were stolen from streets here in March, 16 of which have been recovered. In February there were 16 reported stolen and 12 recovered.

Thirteen bicycles were reported stolen last month and officers recovered four of them.

200 SALVATION ARMY YOUNG PEOPLE TO COME HERE FROM ALL SOUTHLAND ON FRIDAY

Major Percy Morton, commander of the Santa Ana corps of the Salvation Army, and members of his flock, today were completing preparations for entertaining a large group of Salvationists here tomorrow, when one of the greatest gatherings in the history of the local organization will be held, according to the commander.

The occasion is the meeting of the Congress of Young People, and it is anticipated that at least 200 persons will be here from Southern California points. The conference will be held in the afternoon, and at 7:30 p. m. there will be a grand rally at the citadel at 214 North Sycamore street. W. V. Whitson, prominent business man of this city, will preside at the evening session.

Stating that delegates will be present from 15 Southern California cities, Major Morton said the conference and evening meeting would be given over largely to the young people, the program being featured by special musical numbers. He announced that Long Beach is sending a brass band of 20 pieces, and that Pomona will be represented by a harmonica band of 20 players, while Ontario will send over a string band. Other cities will contribute musical novelties.

Pointing out that a large number of prospective Salvation Army officers will be introduced, the commander said that the evening meeting will be addressed by Col. Charles Miles, a veteran officer who is noted in Salvation Army circles for his humor and speaking ability.

"Col. Miles has seen many years of service in the United States, having held some of the highest offices this country could give him," Major Morton said. "He also has filled many positions of importance in England and Austria."

The young people's conference will be under the supervision of Brigadier Samuel Bradley, commander of the Orange belt division, assisted by Commandant Gary Case, his secretary for young people.

Expressing the wish that Santa Ana residents would show their appreciation of the presence here of a large number of out-of-town people, Major Morton said at 7 o'clock the Salvationists will give a big street parade, the delegations wearing the costumes that will designate the cities which they represent. It is expected that many local churches will be represented by members of their Young People's societies.

TRAINING CAMP GETS 21 FROM ORANGE COUNTY

Orange county has been given a quota of 18 men for the citizens military training camp at Del Monte and three for the camp at Ft. McArthur (San Pedro) it became known here today through receipt by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce of information on the program for the summer training camps. The period of training in each camp will be July 1-30.

According to Lieut. Col. William Scott Wood, procurement officer, 1575 young men are authorized to be trained this summer in the three military camps, the third training quarters being at Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco, which runs from June 22 to July 21. The Orange county quota, however, is assigned only to the two camps first named. The authorized number for the state is the largest in the eight year history of the camps.

"The camps have almost become institutions through their increasing popularity with parents and sons throughout the state, and the procurement of the authorized number of trainees is now more a matter of dissemination of correct information than anything else," said Major A. S. Ralph, Orange county representative of the camps.

county representative of the camps.

"The camps are without expense to parents and trainees, and their benefit to the future welfare of the country and to the individual trainee is well known. It is especially desired that each section of the state be high type young men—the only kind who are acceptable."

Orange county men interested in the training may make application to Ralph, at the office of the Automobile Club of Orange county, or to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

VETERANS TO FORM POLITICAL LEAGUE

A large number of ex-service men are expected to attend a meeting at the St. Ann's Inn tomorrow night, at which time a Veterans' non-partisan political league will be formed for the purpose of work in the elections to be held in the county this year.

The new organization is not to be associated with any of the veterans' organizations but veterans of all wars are expected to become members.

The meeting will start with a dinner, to be served at the inn at 7 p. m., it was announced.

No attempt will be made by the organization to endorse candidates for office, according to the leaders of the movement, and most of the league's activities will be confined to seeing that ex-service men register and vote to attempt to keep ex-service men from running for offices they are not qualified to fill.

The league will have members from all parts of the county.

PUT BAN ON BOXING

Following death of a student in a boxing contest during March, University of California officials banned boxing and wrestling as an intramural sport.

Pile Sufferers! This New Discovery Will Rid You of Piles (Hemorrhoids) Forever

Even Cases of Several Years' Standing Have Been Absorbed in from Three to Eight Days—Guaranteed.

Perhaps the most amazing discovery of recent years in the field of medicine is the discovery that Piles can now be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful substance called MOAVA. This substance in the form of a suppository is inserted into the rectum where by its soothing, healing action all pain and soreness is allayed and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal up and disappear often forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes after the use of the first suppository even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments; often after operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The discoverer of this truly wonderful substance has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles, in fact goes so far as to say that he doesn't want a cent of any sufferer's money, even in the worst cases unless it absolutely does what is claimed for it. Two sizes—50c and $1.00. C. S. Kelley Drug will be glad to supply you. Mail orders filled.—Adv.

$42,500 ASKED IN SUIT FILED FOR DAMAGES

Two broken bones in the right arm, a fractured pelvic bone and other injuries resulting from an automobile accident January 26, near Placentia, ought to be worth $30,000, in the opinion of H. T. McCoullou, and that is the amount he is demanding from Alfonso Vela, Los Angeles, in a damage suit which had been launched here today.

McCoullou, an employee of the Union Oil company, at Brea, also asks $10,000 damages for alleged permanent disability, and $2500 attorney fees.

His complaint states that the Vela car collided with one in which he was riding, at the intersection of

2 Escape Death As Airplane Falls 600 Feet

BOLSA, April 5.—Norman Post, local rancher and aviation enthusiast, and Eddie Giles, a friend, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when Post's airplane fell 400 feet after striking an air pocket. The plane landed on top of an orange tree and both men escaped with minor scratches.

All that remains of the airplane is the motor. Post declares that he intends to purchase another plane this week.

PRIZES AWARDED IN BEACH CONTESTS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Miss Dorothy Barnett and Sterling Dixon, both of Los Angeles, were awarded first prize in the popularity dancing contest at the Rensselaire ballroom, it was announced here today. The contest is one of the many events being staged here this week under the auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Sporting events, including boat races, swimming races and other water contests, are being held this week. Saturday will be devoted to the dedication of the Orange county airport. Eight car racing shells which were purchased by the chamber of commerce recently from the Buster Keston company will play an important part in the program Sunday, when a number of exhibition races will be staged.

Frank Davis and Madison Davis, brothers, of Pasadena, were winners of the doubles canoe race held on the bay yesterday.

WESTMINSTER IN MOVE FOR RURAL ROUTE

WESTMINSTER, April 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the Westminster Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening and a number of important subjects were brought up for discussion.

Dr. Richard Foster, Clyde Day, Wells McCoy and George Clought, who last week were in Los Angeles interviewing post office officials concerning preliminary action necessary to securing a rural route out of the Westminster post office, were instructed by the chamber to communicate with S. E. Jarvis of San Diego, inspector of post offices of Southern California, who will send a man to look over the local situation.

The Westminster post office has reached a total of $1200 postal receipts for the year, which automatically makes it a third class post office, requiring a postmaster on regular salary.

Postmaster George Abbott, who for over 20 years has been local postmaster, wishes to retire and will do so at the conclusion of the fiscal year in July. There are

Plans for another library fund drive were made at Tuesday evening's meeting and Dr. Foster, chairman, with the assistance of Fred Basse, president, will on Friday conduct a drive in the community in the interest of the building project.

The public plaza, located one block south of Westminster boulevard, is to be the location of the library building. A one room structure is to be built as the

HOLY WEEK IS OBSERVED BY KIWANIS CLUB

Following up the program of service clubs this week presenting program appropriate to Holy Week, the Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday heard the Rev. George Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church in a splendid address on the occasion of Holy Week.

The learned pastor entered into a discussion of modern thoughts and developments resulting from successful scientific investigations that have changed the trend of thought, as compared with the early history of the Christian era, and emphasized the point that human agencies now take care of ills and many problems with which the people "used to burden the Lord."

He recounted how in early history appeal would be made to God for relief from famine and epidemics and compared that situation with the present methods of eradicating disease through scientific processes.

Vocal duets by Mrs. F. W. Slabough and the Rev. J. H. Hughes, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes, and Herschel Clayton and Miss LaVerne Harrell, accompanied by Mrs. R. S. Briggs, featured the special musical program arranged for the meeting.

The Rev. R. H. Silverthorn, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, presided as program chairman.

Frank W. Wright, of Whittier, lieutenant governor for this Kiwanis district, was a guest at the meeting.

Trees Planted In Beach Park

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Workmen have been busy here for the past several days moving two large palm trees into the city park at East Newport. This trees were located across the street from the park.

Sand in the park has been replaced with dirt. A lawn is to be planted in the near future; shrubs are to be placed in the park.

The Women's Civic league has taken considerable interest in the development of the park. It is largely through the efforts of the league that the improvements are being made.

NEW OFFICERS OF ORANGE ELKS ASSUME OFFICE

ORANGE, April 5.—Assisted by officers of the Ontario and Santa Ana lodges the district deputy grand exalted ruler, William Springer, installed officers of the Orange Elks' lodge here last night. Mr. Springer is a member of the Ontario lodge.

The installation ceremonies followed a dinner at the Coffee Cup cafe given to the visiting officers and outgoing and incoming officers of the local lodge. Stanley V. Mansur is the retiring exalted ruler.

Officers were installed as follows: Exalted ruler, A. D. Burckett; esteemed leading knight, William C. Hagen; loyal knight, Byron Fletcher; lecturing knight, O. M. Roderick; secretary, William Lee; treasurer, Dr. J. E. Riley; Tyler, Cornie Adams, and S. V. Mansur, delegate to the grand lodge at Miami, Fla. in July.

The installation was followed by a program presented by vaudeville artists from Los Angeles.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN

The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do that. It is much better than starvation. That modern, scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years: about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.—Adv.

A Message to Underweight Men and Women

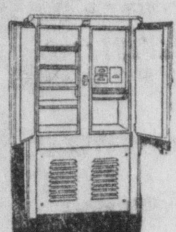

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

Take them for a few weeks and the hollows, checks, neck and chest should soon fill out and whether you be man or woman you may have an attractive figure and plenty of "get there" energy in just a short time.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing—one exceedingly thin woman gained 10 pounds in 25 days. McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at all druggists or any drug store in America.—Adv.

LEAGUE MEET NEXT FOR POLY TRACKSTERS

CUBS DANGEROUS

It may be that in the rush of events in the southern training camps not sufficient attention was given to the California fields where the champion Pirates and the Chicago Cubs did their preparatory work for the 1928 campaign.

This applies particularly to the Cubs as the Pirates monopolized the gossip that spread toward the east.

As the Cubs get nearer home the impression gets stronger that Joe McCarthy has done some serious building and that he has a ball club that should be figured seriously with the other clubs that are looked upon as serious rivals of the champions.

It was admitted generally that "Kiki" Cuyler would be a most valuable addition to the Chicago outfield, but there was some question as to the sagacity in impairing the infield at second base to provide a great kick in the outfield.

But from the form he has shown in the pre-season games it looks as if Cuyler will be the sensation of the year and might be the inspiration that would increase the mechanical efficiency of the whole team.

There may be another great factor in the improvement of the club who has hardly been mentioned. He is Arthur Nehf, discarded by the Cincinnati Reds as a hopeless victim of neuritis in his pitching hand. Nehf is one of the smartest pitchers in the game and, according to reports, his physical disability has been overcome.

Some critics said the great weakness of the Cubs last year during their drive for the pennant, which failed in the stretch, was the lack of left-hand pitching. With Percy Jones and Nehf this weakness ought to be corrected.

ADDS JACOBS TO TEAM

When McCarthy gave up "Sparky" Adams for Cuyler he expressed the confidence that either Fred Maguire or Norman McMillan would handle second base acceptably, but the wise boys shook their heads.

Apparently McCarthy has decided they may not do and he got busy at once to get some reserve material. He secured Ray Jacobs from Los Angeles. Jacobs can play any position in the infield and should be a most valuable man.

WHAT ABOUT ROOT?

The Cubs certainly look stronger than the Giants, the Braves and the Reds and it might not be a fatal shock to the nation to see them in the world's series next fall.

As far as their pennant chances are concerned, however, smart baseball men will have you remember that Charley Root, with 26 victories last year, was the great driving power of the team. They point out that when Root failed in the final quarter of the race the team collapsed and they will ask you to recall how many pitchers have had a great year after a great year.

It is a cinch that the Cubs will have plenty of fighting spirit and they will not suffer any inferiority fixation because they failed to make the grade last year. It was not the lack of a fighting heart that kept them out of the championship.

PLACENTIA TO GET NEW GOLF COURSE. PLAN

PLACENTIA, April 5.—Placentia is to have a golf course, according to an announcement of John C. Tuffrey, member of the recreation committee of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, made at the meeting of that body here yesterday.

A. D. Walker, professional instructor and golf course builder, gave an interesting talk on his plans for the new course. It will be situated two and one-half miles northwest of the city of Placentia, midway between Placentia and Brea, and about the same distance from Fullerton.

The course will be nine holes and capable of accommodating players from Northern Orange county. A five-year lease of the 65-acre property has been obtained from the Anaheim Union Water company, which is the present owner of the land.

HOOD MEETS CONTRERAS

PASADENA, Calif., April 5.—Ernie Hood and Louis Contreras will fight the eighth round main event on the weekly boxing card here tonight.

HAL COX WINS FROM SNYDER. SUB AT DELHI

BY RINGSIDER

Hal Cox, undefeated at the Boyd Ellis stable in Delhi, won another battle last night when he whipped Joe Snyder, substituting for Bill Williams, into submission in the fourth round.

Just before the battle Ellis presented to Cox the medal which the fighter won in the light heavyweight tournament conducted by the Los Angeles Athletic club last month.

Indicating the peculiarities of the fight fans, a large part of the crowd yelled for Snyder to whip Cox, although Cox has fought clean and hard in his every start at the Ellis pavilion. Cox soon demonstrated his superiority, however, and Referee Lloyd Neal had to stop the bout when Cox pounded Snyder repeatedly in the concluding canto.

"Red" Anderson Wins
In the semi-final, "Red" Anderson got the nod over a Mexican youth whose name sounded something like Garcia. Some thought it sounded like Hernandez, but anyway "Red" won largely because of his lively gymnastic exhibition between rounds. He bounced over the ropes after the gong rang, content to have greatly amused the lads and lassies for four fast paragraphs.

A boy named Sport met a boy named L. Rehming and Rehming won because Sport wouldn't come in close enough to fight him. Sport had a hard right but he didn't land it very often, although his opponent didn't seem to have too much on the ball. If the bout had been decided as a dancing contest should be, Sport would have won in a waltz.

Brown Knocked Out
Larry Brown of Los Angeles took a hard right from the glove of the veteran Johnny Hernandez and was counted out in the first round.

Another of the Garcia boys lost to Jimmie Alvarado when Alvarado knocked him out in the second round.

H. H. Brown of Fullerton won from Ed Porter in the curtain raiser, which proved to be one of the best bouts of the evening's program.

Harvey Bear and Charley Weber, former Santa Ana athletes, are digging their spikes in the Santa Ana Poly cinderpath again.

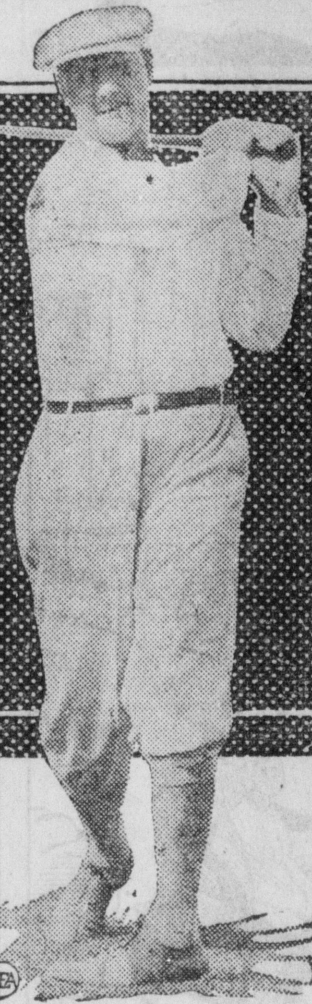

During the spring vacation period while they are returned home, the two track stars have been working out to keep in form.

Bear engages in a freshman meet this week-end. He is captain of the Pomona college freshman team, competing in the dash events. Weber, former high school and junior college performer, is running the high hurdles on Coach Dean Cromwell's University of Southern California varsity.

RICKARD GOLFS

The Risks, Heeneys and Paulinos may be bothering a lot of people but Tex Rickard, as he golfs in Florida, doesn't seem to be losing flesh or planting wrinkles. Pros told him he couldn't keep his head down and his eye on the ball with clouds of smoke from his cheroot puffing up at him, but where he goes his stogie is with him.

Illinois Mermen Set New Record

CHICAGO, April 5.—The Illinois A. C. relay team clipped 3-5 second from its own world record in the 300 yard medley relay race at the National A. A. U. swimming meet here last night. The I. A. C. team finished in 3:05 3-5. The mark applies to a sixty-foot pool. N. Y. A. C. was second and Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. third.

JOHNNY RISK UNABLE TO GET BOUT FOR SELF

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 5.—Gene Tunney will defend his heavyweight title against Tom Heeneys in July, but what of the other contenders? Johnny Risko, the chubby Cleveland, occupies the peculiar position of having whipped most of the heavyweights and now is out of work.

He has nothing to gain by going out and fighting them over again and he might get licked this time by any of the lot. Johnny is the kind of a fighter who stands a chance to lose any time he goes into the ring. His awkward style places him at the mercy of the referee and judges and in a close bout he might get the worst of it, just like he did against Heeneys out in Detroit.

"Risko beat Sharkey and the best Heeneys could get was a draw," said Danny Dunn, Risko's manager. "Risko beat Paulino and the Baguio beat Heeneys and held him to a draw."

Dunn still has hopes of matching Risko with Tunney this year, perhaps in a September bout.

Jack Sharkey, the big gob from Boston, who was slated as early as last December to get the title chance this year but failed in his two bouts with Heeneys and Risko, plans a comeback but can't find any worthy opponent to start on.

Sharkey has signed to meet Jack Delaney 30 but Joe Jacobs, believing Delaney can make more money fighting for Humbert Pugazy has refused to sign with Richard for a Sharkey bout.

Jack Delaney is up a tree as to whether he can make more money fighting as a heavyweight or going back to the light-heavyweight division and meeting Tommy Loughran for the 175-pound title.

Lott Meets Doeg In Net Semi-Final

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 5.—George Lott, ranking No. 3 U. S. tennis player, will meet John Doeg, No. 8, in the one semi-final match today of the Western North Carolina tennis championship. In the other, Tami Abe, Japanese single fiftist, faces Francis X. Shields, junior national champion.

TWILIGHT LOOP PLAYING RULES ARE ANNOUNCED

Official playing rules for the coming season of the Santa Ana Twilight league, known to some as the Business Men's Recreational league, were announced today by Seth Bullock, president.

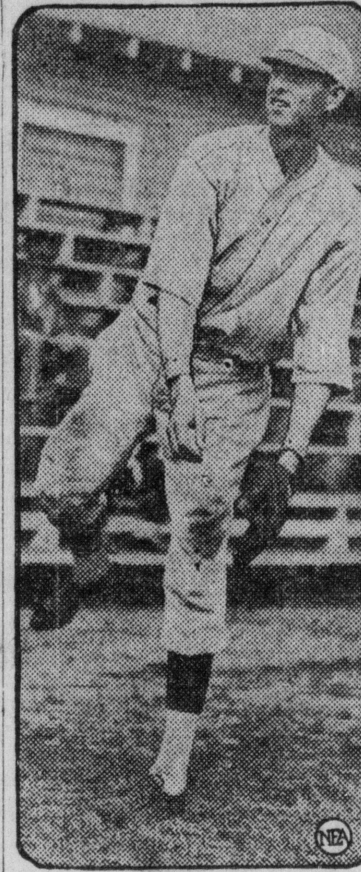

The late afternoon circuit will begin its split season a week from Monday, April 16, and the clubs are already beginning to tune up for the pennant campaign. Eligibility lists, containing the names of not more than 15 men, must be handed to Secretary Charles Berry not later than tomorrow night.

The rules and regulations governing the general conduct of the organization follow:

- (1) No night league, all-star players or school boys allowed to participate.
- (2) A committee of two managers and one outsider will pass on the eligibility of players.
- (3) A 12-inch in seam ball will be used in all league contests.
- (4) Bunting, barred in 1927, will be permitted this year.
- (5) First 10 teams posting entry fees and playing lists will be given franchises.
- (6) A three-game series between winners of each half of the season will determine the league championship.
- (7) All games will begin at 7:30 p. m. ; *w.h.pj ; * p.j ; *.
- (8) Players must reside or work within Santa Ana city limits or receive their mail through local post office.
- (9) Tennis shoes must be worn by all players.
- (10) Names of new members of teams must be presented to the eligibility committee at least 48 hours prior to time of game in which they take part.
- (11) Official diamond baseball rules to be used in all games.

COLD UP THERE?

It doesn't bother Bryan Harris, Red Sox hurler, in the least when the fans josh him a bit about his height. You see, Harris is the tallest pitcher in the major leagues and has been up with the Athletics and the Red Sox long enough not to worry about what the fans say.

The most northerly course in the world is said to be a golf course at Skagway, Alaska, just 400 miles from the arctic circle.

S. A. CONCEDED LITTLE CHANCE AT LONG BEACH

Conceded no better than third, if that, Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana high school track and field troupe while away the vacation hours this week drilling for its next and most important assignment, the annual Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach April 14. Preliminaries in all events will be conducted on the Jackrabbit oval next Wednesday.

The Santa Anans completed their dual meet schedule with only one defeat, at the collective hands of Long Beach, but two of the most formidable schools in the circuit, Glendale and Pasadena, were not in its division and the Oliver disciples will have to cope with them in the league classic.

Long Beach, winner of Division B, nosed out Glendale, champion of Division A, by one point for the dual meet crown, but Glendale still remains a heavy favorite to annex the all-comers' title. Russ Slocum, stellar Glendale sprinter, pulled a tendon in the 100-yard dash in the dual meet and was unable to score a single point or run in the relay which Long Beach won and which gave it victory. Slocum will be ready next Saturday and, of course, will run second to the famous Frank Wykoff in both sprint events as well as insure success for the Dynamiter relay quartet.

To A Million Women Who Know The New Order of Things

Who Want An Automobile That Looks Like Something — Acts Like Something — Is Something — Yet Costs Comparatively Little

If I were a woman, I'd want a certain kind of automobile.

Of course, I'd want it to look like something. For you see, it will be almost a part of me, my life, my home.

And I wouldn't want to pay a fortune for it, because I know too well the value of the dollar.

But I would want far more.

I'd want nimbleness, easy steering, dashing pick-up, certain stopping to end traffic terrors.

I'd want the ability to twist easily into tight parking corners.

I'd want sure-footed, positive braking on those rainy, wet days when I drive the children to school.

And on certain afternoons, when I'm tired of dusting and dishes, I'd want my car to be a care-free vagabond with me, interested only in finding out what is on the other side of some distant, wind-swept hill.

Reo invites every woman who feels that way to try out the Reo Wolverine, to judge it on any feminine basis, over any roads. For Reo has made the Wolverine the woman's car, as well as the man's.

Try one out today—you will be surprised—especially when you ask the price.

INCREASE IN THRIFT AMONG RUSSIANS SEEN

By EUGENE LYONS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, April 5.—Thrill is a word heard almost as often in the Soviet union as in other lands. At every step the Russian peasant and worker are exhorted to turn their spare cash into the nearest savings bank as an answer to the "credit boycott" against their country by the bourgeois world.

"Mobilization of savings" was urged in a thousand editorials recently on the fifth anniversary of the establishment of the first post-revolutionary savings bank, in 1923. Since then the network of such banks has extended throughout the country, more than 8000 functioning, besides savings stations at post offices and railway depots.

The total savings deposits gathered in by these banks amount at present to 227,000,000 rubles. The figure is far below the aggregate savings in the Czarist Russia of 1913, but the tempo of increase promises a new record in a few years. The sum is owned by about 2,000,000 depositors.

The appeal to thrift, however, will not succeed until the vast peasant population is convinced that a bank is as safe as a mattress, or as loose boarding in the attic. Only 6.3 per cent of depositors are peasants and the amounts they trust to the banks are so small that they make only 3.6 per cent of the total funds on deposit.

Fully 68 per cent of the depositors are workers. Their savings too are comparatively small, totaling 49 per cent of the entire amount. The average amount kept by individual depositors, according to figures for last September, was only 81 rubles. State, co-operative and other institutions own 27 per cent of the deposits.

A circumstance which has operated to cut down savings is the fear of goods famines running through all strata of the population. Just as soon as some item of clothing or household utility appears in the stores, people begin to stock up for future use. Thus money which might be used by the banks to facilitate industrial financing and credits for farm machinery is tied up in goods held by individuals in reserve.

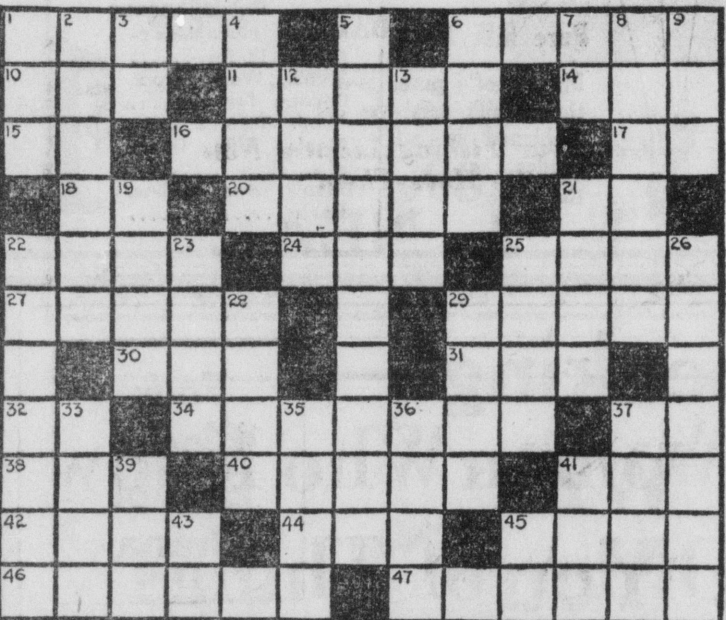

The savings banks pay eight per cent to individuals and six per cent to organizations. The usual guarantees of security, of protection against confiscation by the state, and of general safety of the funds are given by the banks, as in other countries.

ORANGE COUNTY HEIRS PAY BIG SUM TO STATE

California collected $31,700.80 from Orange county heirs on inheritance taxes during the period December 1, 1926 to December 1, 1927, according to word received from State Controller Ray L. Riley.

The total tax received during that period was $33,672.58 but $987.50 was disbursed to the appraisers for fees, and $984.28 was paid into the Orange county treasury as a collection fee. This leaves the state a net income of $31,700.80 from Orange county inheritance tax collections. The net income from the state at large totaled $9,117,242.48.

The inheritance tax rate in the United States is much lower than in any other civilized country in the world, Riley says. The rate in California compared very favorably with other states.

"The criticism we hear so much about against the inheritance tax comes from the fellow who doesn't want to pay," Riley declared. "According to the records of my office, each estate is taxed about every 33 years and the average rate is four per cent. This rate, distributed over a 33-year period, is nominal but the income to the state is considerable.

"All states are collecting substantially the same amount from the tax payer. There is no competition and no aisle of safety for those who wish to avoid payment of the tax.

"The Californian who pays inheritance taxes receives about 80 per cent back in one form or another when he settles with the federal government. Californians and Floridians are paying about the same inheritance tax rate, but in Florida all the tax goes to the federal government while in California 80 per cent is retained from the federal tax for state purposes," Riley says.

"The inheritance tax is not new," Riley says. "There are records showing that the ancient Egyptians levied such a tax in 654 B. C. It is well known that the Roman Emperor Augustus charged an inheritance tax for the support of the Roman armies.

In some countries today, such as Australia, the inheritance tax is extremely high, Riley says, not only for the revenue derived, but for the purpose of breaking up large estates, thus keeping them out of the hands of the few and opening lands to colonists and settlers.

Frankly Speaking—This Will Interest You

The average buyer would, figuratively speaking, "drop dead" if he were told the price the manufacturer actually received for the article he had just purchased.

In all probability the cost at the factory would represent a small percentage of the retail price he had just paid.

"Retailer getting rich" is the thought that would enter his mind. Dead wrong—retailer in all probability merely eking out an existence. But his high selling price caused by the bugaboo of business called "overhead".

Overhead in some businesses is actually 50% of the gross selling price. Here are a few reasons why our overhead is Less than 15%.

We purchase the fine grades of furniture on our floors in carloads, eliminating jobbers' profits and local freight. All of our domestic rugs are purchased from one mill. We buy our rugs at jobbers' prices, owing to quantity we handle.

The splendid volume of business we enjoy makes a quick turnover possible. We actually turn our entire stock every 90 days. No out-of-date or moth damaged furniture and floor coverings are allowed to accumulate.

WELL AT H. B. IN PROMISING OIL FORMATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 5.—The World Petroleum company's No. 10 well in the second block on Twelfth street has been cored to a depth of about 3960 feet and a very good oil sand found, it was reported today. The sand was very hard, which is said to be a good condition as it will not permit the well to sand up so easily. It is expected that the well will be on production within a day or two.

The Collier well at Eleventh and Walnut streets struck a hard formation yesterday at a depth of about 2960 feet, making only four feet of hole in a tower of eight hours. Apparently this is a different formation than that found in some of the wells nearer the ocean on Eleventh street. The Fred Garlepp well located across the street from the Collier well has been flowing for about two months from 250 to 400 barrels per day. The pressure on this well is still good, being 600 pounds on the casing and 150 pounds on the tubing.

The Garlepp well on Thirteenth street in the first block had cleaned up nicely Wednesday with a cut of 13 per cent, mostly mud and very little water. Garlepp is now starting operations on Tenth street in the middle of the second block.

GREAT HARBOR IS PREDICTED FOR NEWPORT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 5.—W. R. Osborn, representative of the Pacific Electric railway at Huntington Beach, who has given considerable thought to the development of the Newport harbor and the relation of that development to the city of Huntington Beach, has been requested to place before the city planning commission matters of vital importance to this city.

Osborn believes that the city planning commission should be anticipating the effects of increased traffic on Ocean boulevard due to the opening of the bridge at Santa Ana, and should also look further into the future to a time when Newport Beach will have a fully developed harbor. It is his opinion that the counties of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties are at the present time shipping from Los Angeles harbor approximately as much in proportion as does the industrial area around that port. All these products could be shipped more economically from Newport harbor, he declares. He believes that the United Fruit company should be shown the advantages of making Newport a port of call. Of course, there must be imports as well as exports and in order to make it attractive for the steamship companies to unload commodities while they are loading the products of this area, it will be necessary to secure a terminal rate so that the commodities unloaded at Newport can be delivered in the metropolitan area as cheaply as they can be delivered from San Pedro, Osborn pointed out. Osborn is confident that this terminal rate would be looked upon favorably if a sufficient quantity of business can be demonstrated.

Boats Made Ready For Vacationists

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—A clean-up and paint-up campaign is being staged on Newport bay this week. Owners of boats, both big and little, are touching up their craft in preparation for the vacation period, according to reports from leading marine hardware stores in the harbor district.

High school and college youths who are owners of many small boats in the harbor district have been busy placing their boats in repair and today the bay was dotted with the small boats.

QUESTION OF ART BOTHERS LAGUNA BEACH CITY COUNCIL; STREET OPENING IS ASSURED

LAGUNA BEACH, April 5.—What is art and what is the dividing line between art and business was a fine question up for the city council to decide when the matter of collecting delinquent business licenses came before the city fathers last night.

The question arose out of the contention of a resident who makes picture frames and claims to be an artist. Whether the term "art" could include craftsmanship of other lines was to be determined.

William W. Riddell, artist, came to the rescue of the council by suggesting that the rules that the artists applied to determine what constitutes an artist might aid the council. This, he said, was defined to mean one who is a producer of painted or drawn pictures to be sold by himself or an agent, or who is a sculptor. He drew the line at interior decorating.

The zoning ordinance was again up for a hearing, this time for second reading. A delegation from Arch Beach asked that the business zone be amended to leave out a district from Italy to Victoria drive. Another delegation wished to exclude an additional block. In the ensuing argument it became apparent that the property owners in the block were represented about equally, and a comparison of names disclosed the fact that a husband and wife had signed petitions, one on each list. The council declined to act and referred the matter to the engineer for checking.

The Orange County Coast association asked by letter that the city appropriate $500 for coast advertising. It was referred to the finance committee. The same committee was granted power to employ an accountant to audit the city books.

A firm of detectives asked to be employed to clean up the city of bootleggers. The proposition was not favorably entertained, the council disclaiming any knowledge of resident or other bootleggers.

Brickels reported that more than $700 in uncollected business licenses remained outstanding and asked instructions. Some refused to pay, he said, and others reported that they were unable to do so. Finally the city attorney was instructed to take action.

The opening of Dumond street, long a problem, made impossible when the highway was cut through, was promised through the purchase of a strip of land by the state, to be deeded to the city, on condition that the city deed a small strip to a citizen here. This was agreed and the first steps to do this were taken.

FIVE BUSINESS FIRMS OPEN IN NEWPORT AREA

NEWPORT BEACH, April 5.—Five new businesses have opened in this city during the past week and four local business concerns changed hands during the same period, it was revealed today by J. A. Winn, city license collector.

Merchants in the city are preparing for a record breaking season. Many local business men have voiced the opinion that the beach will be thronged from now on until well after the start of school next September.

New businesses opened here include a new motion picture house, tea room, auto park, restaurant and a confectionery store and lunch room. The Balboa Amusement company, which recently constructed a new motion picture house and a new ballroom has been granted a permit to operate the Ritz motion picture house.

Mrs. Fairy Hanson, of Huntington Beach, has established a confectionery store and lunch room in a small shop in the new theater building. Finster and Wilson, operators of the Green Dragon cafe here, have been issued a permit to operate a tea room in the new Rendezvous ballroom.

C. W. Okey and J. M. Butterworth were granted permission to open a restaurant at 119 Main street in Balboa. B. W. McCormick was issued a license to conduct a parking station at 609 East Central avenue.

Charles F. Clark has sold his restaurant business at 108 Main street to Steves and Gow.

J. R. McKay, owner and operator of the bathhouse at Twenty-first place in Newport Beach, has asked that his license be transferred to C. E. McFarland.

W. L. Smith is the new owner of a lunch stand at 704 Ocean avenue. Smith purchased the business from George Carandinas.

The license of the Rendezvous ball room was changed from its old location on Main street to the new ballroom at Ocean front and Palm street. The Balboa Amusement company asked the change in the license through Harry B. Tudor, manager of the ballroom.

Post Arranges Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

FULLERTON, April 5.—An Easter egg hunt will be staged Saturday afternoon at the city park on West Commonwealth avenue for the "kiddies" of Fullerton by the American Legion post and its auxiliary, it was announced today. More than 1000 attractive Easter baskets will be concealed in the park.

Games and stunts have been planned for the occasion.

HOWARD IRWIN NOMINATED AS ROTARY CHIEF

FULLERTON, April 5.—Howard B. Irwin, local real estate broker, was named by the nominating committee of the Fullerton Rotary club for president in a report made to the club at the weekly meeting at McFarland's cafe yesterday.

The directors nominated by the committee are A. W. Cleaver, D. C. Cowles, Sam Merchant and Oscar Schneider. The election of the president and directors will be held at the first meeting of the club in May.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Thomas Askin, who used as his subject, "Golf." He told his own experience in 25 years at the game. He described the modern golfer and depicted the average Rotarian's activities in local golf clubs in a humorous way.

A trio composed of Gordon Drew, Robert Dowling and Charles Petty sang during the musical part of the program. Piano solos were rendered by William Davis. The program was arranged by Dr. M. M. Menges and by Fred Strauss.

2 NEW ATWOOD WELLS PLACED ON PRODUCTION

ATWOOD, April 5.—Two good wells were brought in by the Union Oil company this week on the Richfield flats. Situated on the west side of Van Buren street, where the Union Chancelor-Candler-Midway, Superior and General Petroleum companies have done intensive town lot drilling, Stern No. 11 came in Monday and is making 355 barrels a day, just a little better than any well yet brought in in that particular locality. The well is 4624 feet deep.

Stern No. 12 also is on production, making 47 barrels in 12 hours. The well was drilled to 45 feet. At present the oil is of 17 degrees gravity with a cut of 6.1 per cent. The well will clean up and make a better showing in a few days, it is expected.

Chapman No. 26, which came in last week at 99 barrels, is now making 136 barrels. The gravity has gone up to 23 degrees.

Stern No. 5 is down 4725 feet and has 720 feet of perforated pipe set. Y. L. G. No. 17 is in oil sand at 3123 feet. It has been held up a week by lost casing.

Preparations are under way for a new well at York. Linda. George W. Johnson, who drilled the Swain "duster," has taken over the oil General Petroleum Group 4, comprising land owned by A. Marshbaum, Dr. W. V. Marshburn, A. C. Weatherwax, A. P. Yerrington, F. W. Stahler and G. Davenport.

The new well will be located on the Davenport property, which is known locally as the Dr. Bower place. It will be an offset to Nugent's No. 1 well, and lies 150 feet from the Nugent lease and 100 feet from Buena Vista street. The road has been built and material is going in for the rig.

RANCHERS FINED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 5.—E. S. Norris, 36, and Ed. Hunter, 39, both of El Toro, were arrested early Wednesday at Sixth and Main streets by Officers Wood and Kel-lar. Norris was charged with possession of liquor and paid a fine of $100. Hunter was charged with possession of liquor and also with carrying a concealed weapon. For the possession charge he paid a fine of $100 and for the concealed weapon charge he paid a fine of $150. Norris and Hunter are ranchers.

Arrange Funeral Of Orange Woman

ORANGE, April 5.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at the Gillogly funeral parlor home for Mrs. Lucenia Clem, who died Wednesday at her home at 272 North Grand street after a brief illness. The Rev. Walter E. Cole of the First Methodist church will conduct the service.

Mrs. Clem had been a resident of Orange for the past eight years, and was a member of the First Methodist church here. She has no relatives in this vicinity with the exception of a cousin, Miss Ruth Phelps, of Los Angeles.

Anaheim Permits Show Increase

ANAHEIM, April 5.—Showing an increase of $400 over the same month last year, building permits in Anaheim issued during March totaled $15,415, according to a report by City Building Inspector R. Nyboe.

Of the permits issued last month, $11,000 were for the construction of new residences, Inspector Nyboe states.

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Princess Paul Chavchavadze selects OLD GOLD

"I was much intrigued by the invitation to make a blindfold test of your leading brands of American cigarettes, to see how they compared with each other and with those I had smoked abroad. Could one really taste the difference? I wondered.

"But when I was handed these cigarettes, one by one, I realized at once that there was a difference and that the test was conclusive. One cigarette was so much more appealing, so much more delicate in flavor. Oh, and so much smoother!

"When the test was over and I was told that the cigarette of my choice was OLD GOLD I understood at once why this cigarette is so popular among my American friends."

PRINCESS PAUL CHAVCHAVADZE, Sister of Mrs. Wm. B. Leeds

How Test Was Made

Subject was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. The Princess was entirely unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the four cigarettes, the Princess was asked to designate by number her choice. Without hesitation she replied, "No. 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.

Fable of Young Man Who Thot Easter Was a Point of Compass..

Once upon a time there lived in Santa Ana a young man who thought Easter was what made the bread rise. He was too busy to pay much attention to his clothes. He was always in such a hurry that his coat couldn't ever quite catch up with him. He walked on ahead and then his coat followed as best it could.

Then one day some one told him, "Your clothes are laying down on you. They look like you have been hung on a clothes line."

After that he tried to spruce up. He kept thinking about his clothes all day long. But the more he thought the less they fit him. They dropped away from him and lagged back.

Then, just before Easter, he heard about the man-style experts at Vandermaast's. He walked in and took their treatment.

First, he tried on a fancy striped Oxford Grey suit in smartish two-button models at $35, $40 and $50.

He considered a new two-pants suits at $35, "Twin Pants." And the new Spring stripes in Society Brand at $45, the Bristol Stripes at $50, the Haddons at $50.

The young men's suits in sizes 33 to 37 came along, showed some new twists at $27.50.

Looked over the new Spring Stetsons at $8.00, the imported Spring lightweight hats at $5.00. Eagle Shirts looked too good to be true. Interwoven Socks in fancy shades. And so on.

He walked out of Vandermaast's a changed man and will never be the same again.

MORAL: Hoping you will do the same, yours very truly.

PORTLAND WINS FROM SERAPHS: STARS TRIUMPH

Portland was the only team to turn the tables in the second day's games in the Pacific Coast league yesterday. Other teams that won Tuesday repeated yesterday while losers again were shortendens.

Portland started off with six runs in the first inning against Los Angeles. Although the Angels slugged heavily and cut the lead, the Beavers won, 11 to 10.

Smead Jolly, Arkansas giant, was outstanding in San Francisco's defeat by Seattle. His homer in the eighth, with a runner on base capped a day of brilliant hitting and fielding. The score was again 3 to 2.

Bill Hughes' former Sacramento teammates pounded his pitching to defeat Missions, 11 to 3.

Poor pitching was held responsible for Oakland's second successive defeat by the Hollywood Stars. George Boehler got himself in a bad hole and Gould relieved him but could not prevent the winning runs. The score was 4 to 3.

IT PAYS YOU TO SAY
Fill it up!
INSTEAD OF "FIVE" OR "TEN"

YOU'RE pretty sure to need more gallons than you name. Why not say—"Fill it up!" and save yourself needless extra trips for gas? Ordering a definite number—five gallons—10 gallons—is just a habit—and a time-losing habit, at that. Why not replace it with a time saver? It keeps you longer on the road when you say—"Fill it up!"

AND ALWAYS WITH CALPET
Extra processed to make it extra smooth

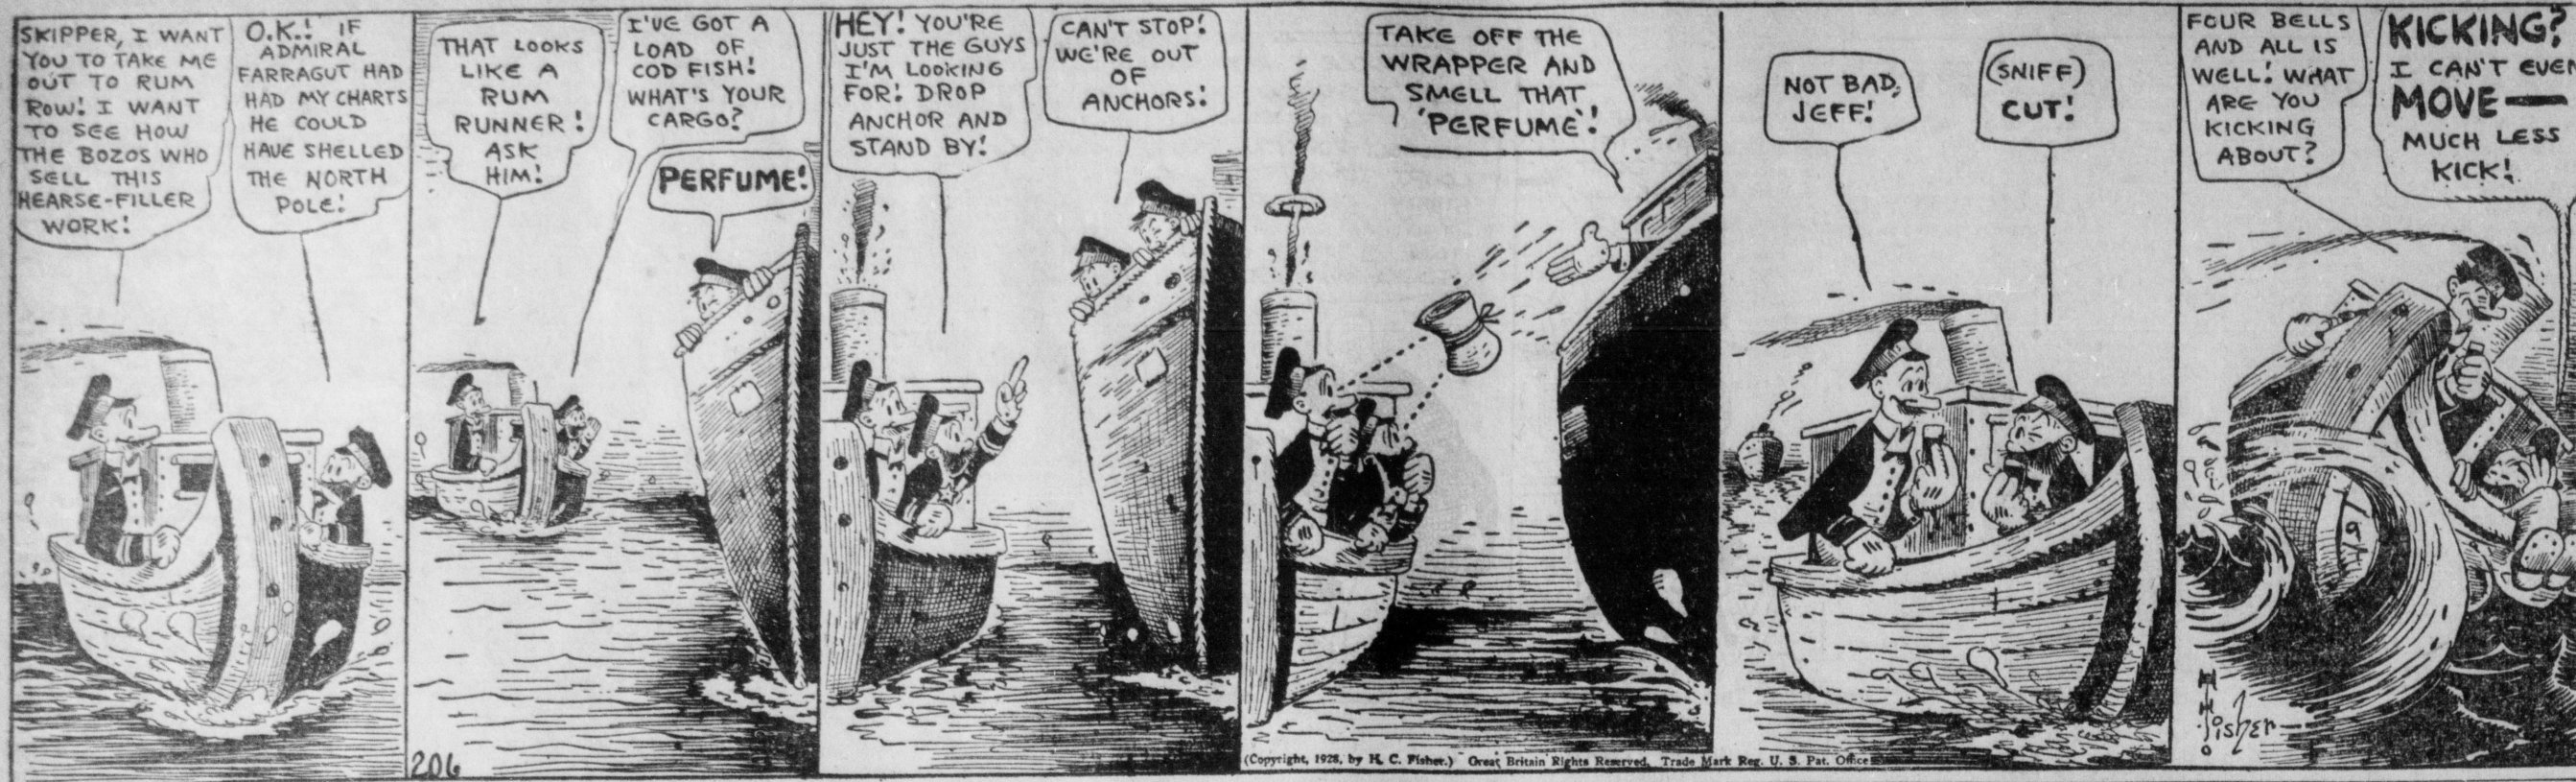

A quick snappy start in the morning—and smooth, flexible performance all day! Power to spare, even for the stiffest climbs, and a pick-up like a bird taking wing! Everything your modern, high compression motor demands, Calnet delivers—and with it a mileage that no gasoline can excel!

You will save time and keep your car in prime condition by getting COMPLETE service at your neighborhood Calpet station all at one time. Your Calpet dealer will fill your tank, drain your crank-case, grease your car, and furnish other service all in ONE STOP. Drive in where you see the Calpet sign.

Remember the time-saving way to order your gasoline:
"Calvet—and fill it up!"

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

Chauncey M. Depew has made his last speech. Millions of people were saddened today to learn of his death. Mr. Depew was one of the institutions of the United States. He died at the ripe age of ninety-three years, and up to the very last he had full use of his marvelous faculties. He was a graduate of Yale and was admitted to the bar seventy years ago in New York. A few years later he became a member of the New York Assembly. This was the year of the outbreak of the Civil war. From that hour to this Mr. Depew's life was identified with the public life of America, and at all times he was a staunch, thorough-going, and a happy partisan.

Senator Depew was interested in all phases of human activities. He was many-sided. In this he resembled the late Theodore Roosevelt, though hardly as pronounced in this respect as was the late President. Mr. Depew's record of personal attainments was an unusual one. He rose rapidly in his profession, in political life and in business activities. He was one of the leading factors in the development of the New York Central Railway, having first been its attorney, later its general counsel, then vice-president and for many years the chairman of its board. He passed through stormy times, both in business and politics, and at the time of the Standard Oil and Insurance investigation, Depew (then a member of the United States Senate) was a connected factor. Naturally, in the various business political and legal contests, Mr. Depew had to receive as well as to give, the severest thrusts that are always incident to leadership, but the most marvelous force that sustained Mr. Depew during this period, and undoubtedly the chief softener and sweetener of his life, which insured his longevity, was his keen sense of humor. This trait was always in evidence, and on the most serious occasions the humor of the situation so appealed to Mr. Depew as to save him from bad consequences. His humor was particularly evident in addresses which he delivered from time to time, and he has been without question, for the last thirty-five years, the most renowned, pleasing, humorous and wholesome after-dinner speaker which we have had.

There was something Lincolnian about Senator Depew in his philosophy and humor and the presentation of them to the public. His exhaustless fund of anecdote and wit has emphasized his philosophy of life which pleased and profited millions of men and women. Those who attended the National Republican convention at Chicago eight years ago will never forget the address of Chauncey M. Depew. After the din, blare and drone procedure which was exhausting the delegates on that hot July day, Chauncey M. Depew was introduced, a man eighty-five years of age. With elastic step and smiling countenance, he approached the edge of the platform and almost instantly challenged the attention of the audience with the patetst things which could possibly be said on such an occasion. It was the finest thing of the day. It delighted and enthused the delegates and visitors. It was optimistic and philosophical. It was a regular Depew speech.

We have no doubt that soon the letters and addresses of Chauncey M. Depew will be published in full, and in them Mr. Depew will continue to live at his best. The nation will miss this able, kindly, human man.

THE CIVIC CONSCIENCE OF THE NATION

A writer in one of the notable English reviews looks upon our Nicaraguan policy with the eyes of a foreigner. It is interesting to see ourselves as others see us. Of course, the attitude of the writer is somewhat critical, as we might suspect. He believes that the Monroe Doctrine was never intended to be applied in the way in which the United States is applying it toward the weaker nations of the Caribbean. He doubts whether our nation would dare to apply it to the stronger nations of South America.

Be that as it may, it is an incidental statement rather than the general content of the article which interests us. He notes the very general protest against the policy of the government which has been expressed in all parts of the country. This, he says, is the civic conscience which the people of the United States have inherited from their English forbears. He intimates that in no other country is it possible to arouse this civic conscience against an apparent injustice among the people whose government appears to be guilty of unjust acts against a foreign people.

This civic conscience is undoubtedly peculiar to Anglo-Saxon peoples. It was seen in the protest of so many Englishmen to the Boer war in 1899. It was seen in the protest of so many in this country against the Mexican war in 1846. This civic conscience is not to be confused with the revolutionary spirit which arises in a nation like Russia and Germany during the World war. The violent and bloody Russian revolution and the more peaceful German revolution just preceding the armistice were not outbursts of civic conscience but of a sense of wrong and tyranny endured to the utmost limit. The civic conscience is concerned for the sufferings of others. Revolution is a reaction to wrongs inflicted upon the revolutionists themselves.

It is this civic conscience that makes for the true grandeur of a nation. So long as it exists a nation has a glorious future. Without it, nations grovel and decline. It is to stimulate and keep alive this civic conscience which is the concern of every good citizen. To suppress it as some over-zealous patrioters are ever urging us to do is to kill out that factor in a nation's life which is of the highest value. More than the value of thousands of mere "yes" men is the value of those rare spirits who are loyally critical, and who always urge their country to walk the path of light and justice. This is what the civic conscience actually does for a nation.

WORTHILY HONORED

The House Committee on coinage, weights and measures has reported favorably on a resolution appropriating $1000 for a medal to be struck by the Department of the Treasury commemorative of the achievements of Thomas A. Edison. Mr. Edison has applied for 1328 patents and the monetary value of the benefit of Edison's inventions to industry was estimated in information filed with the committee as $15,599,000,000.

Congress can hardly do less than recognize in this way the really stupendous work of this "wizard." The direct benefit to industry, however large it may be, is but a small part of the actual benefit derived from the amazing inventions of Mr. Edison. It is impossible to calculate the good accomplished to the millions of people who daily use the incandescent electric globe to mention only one of his products. Imagine now the world getting on without it. But add to this the microphone, the phonograph, electric valve, motion pictures, teleprinter, storage battery and nearly a thousand other inventions for which he has actually received patents.

These have not come to Mr. Edison as sudden discoveries, but through laborious study and long continued experiment. Through much discouragement and failure and through perseverance and determination. The world owes him a debt, not only for material advancement, but cultural and spiritual, which it would bankrupt humanity to pay. We should not wait for his death to do him honor. By all means let us have a commemorative medal and let every man, woman and child look upon it reverently as a symbol at once of effort rewarded and the gratitude of the Republic.

TEMPERAMENT OR EGOTISM

One wonders whether there may not be a confusion between that artistically aristocratic thing called temperament and humility. Much more allowance is accorded the individual with temperament than would be granted one who was simply overwhelmingly egotistic. Such an one is an insufferable bore and we recognize him at once. But if he is so fortunate as to be able to sing, or play an instrument we put up with his arrogant conceit, call it temperament, and forgive a great deal.

The wife, whether singer or actress, who has been accustomed to the plaudits of the public and finds it difficult to adjust herself to domesticity is not always to be referred to with more or less respect as temperamental. All of the charming quality of humility which is so essential for our happy relationships one with another may have been smothered. This theory accounts for the puzzling lack of temperament we observe in some of the greatest artists. The quality by another name is not so easily tolerated. Call temperament egotism and it is quite different and much less acceptable.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

LATE FOR SCHOOL

Miss Louise had begun rapid drill in numbers. She held up a card and a small boy popped up and snapped "ten," at the top of his voice and the maximum of his energy. Flash, went the next card and the next little boy flashed his answer. Sharp, quick, smart; the teacher snapped the cards and the little fellows snapped back the answers. All eyes were glued on the cards. If you missed, if you hesitated a fraction of a second you had to go on line and stay there until everybody had taken his turn and then the teacher would look at you scornfully and say, "When, I wonder, WHEN, are you going to know your tables? Take your seat."

If you had been watching the classroom door while Miss Louise flashed the cards you might have seen it crack just a trifle soundlessly, and as soundlessly close again. Three times during the brief period of flashing cards and snapping pupils you might have seen that door crack open and go shut as if some magic were at work behind it.

"Very good. Where's Bessie today?" Noiselessly the door swung wide and a plump little girl, softly, shyly, edged her guilty way toward the teacher.

"You're late," said Miss Louise in tones of horror. "Of all the children I ever saw. Slow beyond words. You can't get a flash card right one single morning and now you're late. Spilling our record. Take your seat."

Bessie tip-toed to her seat and busied herself with putting away her books. For a long time her head was under her desk. Miss Louise lost patience.

"Bessie White, are you ever going to get ready for work? Haven't you disturbed the class sufficiently for one day?"

Bessie sat up and for the rest of the morning did rather good work. She got all the examples except one, a mistake in carrying. Her spelling was perfect and she read well. She was on time in the afternoon and did her work with due deliberation, as was her way, but in good form and quality.

But the next morning the door of the classroom behaved the same way and so did Bessie. Five mornings straight running Bessie was late. Then Miss Louise in righteous wrath took her to the office and left her there to explain herself.

"Why are you late like this Bessie," he asked very kindly. He liked Bessie. This was very strange, this lateness.

"I can't flash," said Bessie looking up at him with limpid eyes.

For an instant the principal was taken aback. Was this innocent-faced baby of the second year sophisticated to this extent? Flash?

"What do you mean, child?"

"We have to flash first thing in the morning and I can't think it quick enough so I'm always on line and sent to my seat. That's why."

There's usually a reason outside the child itself for lateness. Home or school is to blame, rarely the child. This time it was "flashing." Why the speed? What's the hurry? Aren't children's reactions as important as speeding number combinations? What good are they, anyway?

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

WHAT'S THE USE?

When I was young my parents sought
To rouse me to ambition,
And consequently I was taught
Subtraction and addition.
They said no lad could get a start
In this commercial nation
Unless in youth he'd learned the art
Of rapid calculation.

While other happier kids could play
In yards and barns and attics
I had to slave my youth away
Absorbing mathematics;
And though the tax upon my brain
Had sapped my pristine vigor
And I was bent beneath the strain,
I certainly could figure.

But never did I get the eye
Of an applauding nation
Or gain a great position by
My skill with an equation.
I saw my chance of fortune fade
My hopes of fame retiring,
Machines were made to ply the trade
I'd been so long acquiring.

And never shall I vex my brain
Nor tire my mind with study
Or ever try again to gain
A trade for any body.
I'll lie around and take the sun
Amid soft sylvan greenery
For all hard thinking will be done
Hereafter by machinery!

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

WAR TALK

A German leader, Dr. Paul Oestreich, declares that America and England will certainly be driven into war. They will both woo Germany for an ally, and in this way Germany will rise in the council of nations.

We have had among our own people men who predict that war is certain. They say that human nature cannot be changed and that war is inevitably due to ensue.

Lloyd George says: "In every country it is part of the business of the fighting staff to work out a plan for defense against all conceivable enemies. They gloat over their efficiency and, like every inventor, yearn to put their machine to a test, until possible war soon becomes likely and a likely war gradually glides into the inevitable."

From time immemorial nations and tribes have sought to "protect" themselves by increasing their armaments. A considerable portion of the press is urging the United States greatly to increase armament on sea and land in order to "protect" itself.

There never was a nation that could so protect itself. Greece tried it, and Rome and Spain and Germany and Russia, and they all fell.

The best protection for a nation is for it to form some kind of combination with other nations which public sentiment will endorse that shall abolish war as a final arbiter.

The most hopeful sign today is that people are finding out that war not only costs them money and valuable lives, but destroys property and sets back business.

It would be a good thing if every boy and girl in the country were compelled to serve two years under the tutelage of army officers in constructing great public works, such as the Boulder dam and the Mississippi Reclamation projects.

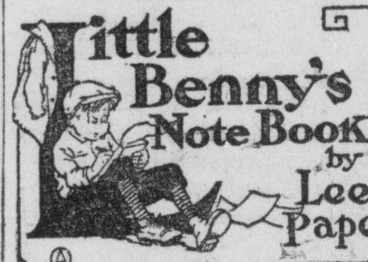

There is no objection to universal conscription if it is universal, and if it is not primarily for the purpose of fighting. These boys and girls would be potential soldiers in case we were ever attacked, but their employment upon constructive works would not be in the nature of a provocation of war to other nations.

Some way or other we must give up our arms and defer questions of international dispute to some other arbiter than crass nationalism.

One hopeful sign is that plans of peace are openly discussed in international councils. The late Pan-American Congress was full of peace talk.

And peace-talking brings peace, just as war talk brings war. The question after all is one of public opinion and the sooner that public opinion is turned away from causes of war and toward the efforts of peace the better will be our prospects.

Me and ma was downtown on our way home, and some man with one leg off and one on was standing agest a wall holding out his hat with a asking expression, and ma opened her bag and started to look in it for change, the man saying, Heaven will reward you mam, and personally I thank you in advants.

O my goodness I have nothing smaller than a 10 dollar bill, except jest enuff change for care-fare home, ma sed. Ill get this bill changed somewere, jest wait a few minnits, she sed.

I ixpect to be heer rite along, the man sed. And ma went in the ferst store, being a candy store, saying to the lady, Would you mind changing a 10 dollar bill for me?

Im very short of change, unless 2 fives would help you eny the lady sed, and ma sed, No, hardly. Meaning she didnt feel sorry enuff for the man to give him five dollars, and we started to wawk out, me wispersing to ma, Hay ma, I bet if you bawt a box of candy shes give you the change.

Being a suddin good idee, ony ma didnt appreciate it, and she went in 3 more stores and none didnt have eny change to give for nuthing, ma saying to the one legged man, Im sorry, but nobody seems to have change for this 10 dollar bill.

O thats all rite mam, Ill change it for you with pleazzure, the man sed. And he held out his hand and took it before ma stopped being seprized, and he took a grate big roll of money out of one pants pocket and gave ma 9 one dollar bills and a lot of change for the other dollar out of his other pants pocket, and ma put some of it back in his hat vile she was still partly seprized and then got mad at herself for doing it and stayed mad all a ways home.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today
From the Register Files

April 5, 1914

The Register stated that friends of Paul Anderson and Ernest Playan, star athletes at the local high school, were making arrangements to send them to the state track and field meet to be held soon at Stanford university.

The Stanford university basketball team defeated the Orange Athletic club, 27 to 21.

Miss Virginia Johnston, piano teacher, presented her pupils in a recital. Among those taking part were Mildred Ward, John Ward, Jewel Blankenship, Gladys Blanchard, Wellesley Taylor, Bessie Bower, Paul Irvine, Mirlie Morris, Sylvia Shields, Lottie Morris, Blanche Irvine and Nellie Irvine.

Building permits issued during March totaled $57,128.

J. W. Jeffrey, former state horticultural commissioner but now secretary of the California Cured Fruit exchange, will speak in Santa Ana April 11 at the annual meeting of the Orange County Dried Fruit association.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

The professional philosopher was never more popular or less powerful than now.

Philosophy is one of the hardest ridden words in the current vocabulary, and any half-decently written book that garbs itself in the pretensions of philosophy can find an audience.

For the last ten years I have watched with deep interest the tendencies in contemporary philosophy, and many of these tendencies seem to me to mean nothing short of the philosopher's abdication of the role we have a right to expect him to play in human affairs!

The philosopher is, by his very name, a lover of wisdom.

Today he must ply his trade in a time when the growth of knowledge is outstripping the growth of wisdom.

Today philosophy insight is not keeping pace with scientific discovery.

Today—if an awkward sentence will be pardoned—we know more than we know what to do with.

Since the middle of the nineteenth century, the sudden inrush of new knowledge has paralyzed philosophy in particular as it has paralyzed education in general; and just as education has taken refuge in unrelated specialisms, so philosophy has centered its concern on the technicalities of its own procedures until, with a few happy exceptions, the philosopher is today in the battle of specialisms instead of above the battle of specialisms where he belongs.

The social function of the philosopher is, as I see it, to provide humanity with the raw materials of popular thought, to fling out creative guesses and fruitful conceptions that shall be the soil in which business men, politicians, preachers, educators, and other men of affairs may plant their separate policies.

It seems to me that the technical problems of philosophy are important only as preparation for this social function.

When any of the purely technical aspects of philosophy—such as the current absorption of many philosophers in the field of mathematics—becomes the exclusive occupation of the philosopher, it seems to me to become a city of refuge in which he takes shelter from the higher and harder challenge of his real job.

The philosopher cannot discharge his real duty by becoming a mere broker among the scientists, a historian of his own past, and a man aloof from the popular tendencies of his time.

But today the philosopher is sorely tempted to fall victim to this triple danger.

The Vanishing Fourteen Points

Riverside Daily Press

One of the results of the war "to make the world safe for democracy" seems to be the establishment of imperialism in a somewhat new form, that of a class rather than of a monarch.

President Wilson formulated what was known as "The Fourteen Points," on which democracy and world peace were to be founded in the future, but most of those points have lost their sharpness in the postwar developments.

One of them was self-determination of racial groups. Another was respect for the rights of minorities. It was inevitable that in a region of such intermixture of racial groups as exists in Europe, especially in the east and south, there must be included in whatever racial political organism might be formed, groups of other races too few in number to constitute a large and influential portion of the population. For them there could be no self-determination, but there should be protection. Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Russia all contain such bodies of people of different race, language and natural development from the dominating race of the nation.

Protecting the natural rights of such peoples against the tendency of the dominant race to compel all others to unify themselves with it is proving to be difficult. Chief among these dominating majorities is the Italian, under the asserting personality of Mussolini. Italy took in that portion of the Tyrol which had belonged to Austria. Her reason for doing so was that it gave her a better natural mountain defense line than she had before. This area is peopled almost exclusively by German stock, speaking German language. Italy has undertaken to Italianize these Germans by practically forbidding them to use their native tongue, officially, in instruction and even in religion.

She is more dictatorial in the matter than Germany was in Alsace or France is now. Naturally the people themselves object and their relatives and fellow Germans in Austria object.

It would seem that defense of Italy would be better secured by treaties for assuring peace than by arbitrarily trying to make over a race of people for the purpose of war. But war is still recognized as the only means of national security. What is needed is a change in world thought on that subject, including our own.

A Small Tyranny

San Diego Union

Certain convicts in California penitentiaries have lately broken in to the magazines with articles, poems and stories of various types—an activity contrasting quite favorably with other phases of the authors' careers. Now a member of the board of prison directors has come out with the announcement that this work will be prohibited in the future, for the curious reason that "the prison board has no time nor disposition to read this material and see that it is in proper shape."

Convicts will be permitted to make sackings, shoes, chairs, brooms and what-not; but they are not to be allowed to spend spare time in writing for publication.

This is nonsensical and unjust and harmful—and the reason assigned for this ruling is absurd. If the inmate of a prison can occupy himself with any harmless, constructive work, he should be allowed to do so. Where the rehabilitation of a prisoner is possible, nothing will do more to accomplish it than this. Where the prisoner is beyond reform, this little taste of liberty can do no harm.

Granted that the eminent members of the prison board have no time to see that the material is "in proper shape," it should be added that they are not under the slightest constraint to do so. The editors of the magazines will attend to that detail. Prison directors are not expected to be literary censors.

Governor Young is investigating this petty ruling, and it is to be hoped that he will cause its withdrawal.
